

Making Simple Remarkable

Change is an attitude and a mindset.

Today, we mark an important milestone in our history with the unveiling of a new Teckwah.

Over the years, we have evolved to meet demands of the changing marketplace.

We continue to embrace our entrepreneurial spirit. We see the bigger picture. We are investing in our future.

This spirit has propelled us farther forward in our transformation.

Our new corporate identity which encompasses Print and Logistics Business of the Group symbolises a re-energised Teckwah, ready to deliver game-changing innovations to our treasured customers.

Embodying Teckwah's long-standing philosophy that change is the only constant, it reflects our courage to seize new opportunities while staying true to our core values of teamwork, initiative, commitment and continuous improvement.

We are moving to our new global headquarters, Pixel Red. It is an innovation hub, designed to foster creativity, cultivate partnerships and nurture young talent. This is where print and packaging will become truly interactive and new possibilities will be created to drive brand value and enhance the consumer experience.

At Teckwah, we help customers make a difference.

It's not just what we make – it's what we make possible – that counts.
